To the Editor:
At Old Sepulveda and Hawthorne Blvd., the traffic light is green to Hawthorne Blvd. traffic for about 15 seconds. This should keep the new hospitals going up in that area quite busy.

JAIL TERMS—Municipal Judge Donald Armstrong, who has been meting out jail terms to motorists who drive after their license has been suspended, points out section of the vehicle code which has been violated. Press Photo

'Grounded' Drivers Get Jail Sentence from Judge

Faces of defendants appearing in Torrance Municipal Court have become somewhat ashen during the past 10 days when they suddenly found themselves sent to jail instead of being assessed a small fine.

These are the persons who have been haled before Judge Donald Armstrong on charges that they drove after their operators licenses had been revoked or suspended.

"You'd be surprised how many people are flagrant violators," said Judge Armstrong.

Several of these violators have been sent to the County Jail, usually for five days, since Judge Armstrong started his tenure in the Torrance court on June 30.

"It's my philosophy that a person drives with a suspended license for two reasons. Either he's had an accident and had no insurance and failed to pay damage, or he has been convicted of drunk driving," the jurist said.

He said that he feels by cracking down on these offenders, he might spare an innocent driver from being involved in an accident with someone who has no insurance or financial responsibility and skips out of state without paying for damages.

"To me it's more serious to drive after the license has been suspended than petty thievery," he said.

"If you let them off with a fine, they'll just laugh up their sleeves at the law," Judge Armstrong added.

He said that several Los Angeles judges crack down even harder than he does, and send offenders to jail for 30 days.

No Gang War Seen in Fight

A shooting during a drag race in Lawndale Sunday night does not appear to signal the outbreak of a gang war in the Southwest area, deputy sheriffs said today.

Two youths, Angel Garcia, 23, of 15203 Osage ave., and Daniel Earl Parian, 18, of Manhattan Beach were wounded Sunday night when their car was forced over to the curb by another machine near the Torrance city line.

Garcia was shot through the stomach by the four or five occupants of the other car, which stopped the victims in front of 4515 W. 168th st., Lawndale.

Parian received a leg wound during a brief scuffle in which the suspects came armed with baseball bats and a .22 caliber rifle, investigators said.

A third youth, Alex Barbosa, 19, of Lawndale, was not injured, while the two wounded youths were taken to Hawthorne Community Hospital.

Deputies discounted the theory that the incident was the beginning of a gang war, and said it appeared that it had been merely a drag race between youths who did not know each other.

Youth Jailed in Battery Complaint Signed by Mother

Albert Junior Mora, 20, was given a 30-day jail sentence Monday after he pleaded guilty to battery charges against members of his family.

Mrs. Delfina Mora, his mother, of 17302 Delia ave., who signed a complain against her son, said that he struck her in the face with his fists.

She also accused him of kicking his brother, Raul, 4, striking his brother Maurice, 16, with his fists, and throwing a rock at his sister, Cecelia, 18.
